

CONTRIBUTORS

Abdul-Rashid Abdul-Aziz is a Professor in the Quantity Surveying Section, School of Housing, Building and Planning, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a PhD from the University of Reading and a Master from University of Brunel. His research interests include international construction, construction industry development, housing public-private partnership and property developer competitiveness. He has also explored housing issues in the Malaysian context. He has produced several books, chapters in books, international refereed journal papers and conference papers.

Andrew Ebekozen is a PhD student in the Quantity Surveying Section, School of Housing, Building and Planning, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a Master of Technology in Quantity Surveying from the Federal University of Technology, Akure, Nigeria. His research interests include housing, construction economics, construction management, and construction measurement. He is also co-partner of Ehi-Ose and Partners, a consultant quantity surveying firm, in Edo State, Nigeria.

Azmi Arifin is a lecturer in the History Section, School of Humanities, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a PhD from the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia and a Master of Arts (MA) from USM. His research interests include modern European history, Malaysian political history, Malaysian historiography and the history of the concept of nationalism and feudalism.

Azmil Tayeb is a senior lecturer in the Political Science Section, School of Social Sciences, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a PhD from the Australian National University and an MA from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. His research interests include Southeast Asian politics, social movements, federalism, democratisation, and political Islam. His book “Islamic Education in Indonesia and Malaysia: Shaping Minds, Saving Souls” was published by Routledge in 2018.

Chua Hang-Kuen is a lecturer in the Anthropology and Sociology Section, School of Distance Education, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a PhD from La Trobe University and a Master of Social Science (Anthropology/Sociology) from USM. His research interests in sociological and cultural studies include identity, gender, sexuality and the body. He is also interested in community-based research using cultural mapping approach for community place making.

Idris Aman is a Professor in the Programme of Linguistics, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia. His research interests include critical discourse analysis, sociolinguistics and syntax.

Lau Su Kia is a senior language teacher in the Department of Malaysian Languages and Applied Linguistics, Faculty of Languages and Linguistics, University of Malaya (UM), Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. He is currently a PhD candidate. He holds a Master of Modern Language Studies from UM. His research interests include Chinese lexicology, corpus linguistics, sociolinguistics and teaching Chinese as a second language.

Mastura Jaafar is a Professor in the Quantity Surveying Section, School of Housing, Building and Planning, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. She holds a PhD and MSc. from the USM. Her research interests include strategic management in the construction, housing, and tourism industries, entrepreneurship, project management and procurement management. She has produced several books, chapters in books, international refereed journal papers and conference papers.

Mohammad Fadzeli Jaafar is a lecturer in the Programme of Linguistics, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia. His research interests include stylistics, sociolinguistics, sociopragmatics and syntax. He is also interested in the philosophy of language and discourse analysis.

Norsimah Mat Awal is a lecturer in the Linguistics Programme, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM). She holds a PhD from UKM and her research interests include semantics, pragmatics, translation, sociolinguistics, and corpus linguistics.

Su'ad Awab is an associate professor in the Department of English language, Faculty of Languages and Linguistics, University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. She holds a PhD from Lancaster University, UK. Her research interests include corpus linguistics, phraseology and metaphor studies.

Tan Chee Seng is a senior lecturer in the History Section, School of Humanities, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. He holds a PhD in Chinese Studies (Chinese History) from the National University of Singapore and a Master of Arts (MA) in Southeast Asian History from USM. He specialises in modern Chinese history and Overseas Chinese history. He is also interested in the studies of Kuomintang (KMT), Sun Yat-sen, Chiang Kai-shek, and history of Chinese education in Malaysia. He was a Visiting Student (2010 and 2011) at the Institute of Modern History, Academia Sinica, Taipei, Taiwan.

Teng Kee Tuan is a senior lecturer in Economics at the Faculty of Accountancy, Finance and Business, Tunku Abdul Rahman University College, Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. She obtained her PhD and Master in Economic Management from Universiti Sains Malaysia. Her teaching and research interests include international trade and finance and economic interdependence and integration. Her research articles have been published in international journals such as Economic Modelling, Prague Economic Papers, Margin: The Journal of Applied Economic Research, and others. She was appointed by Oxford University Press Malaysia as an esteemed member of Advisory Board in the subject of Economics and Management.

Woo Kuan Heong is a senior lecturer in the Political Science Section, School of Social Sciences, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), Pulau Pinang, Malaysia. She holds a PhD and a Master of Public Administration (MPA) from USM. Her teaching and research interests include public administration, public employment, representative bureaucracy and Malaysian politics. Recently she is also involved in research in areas that are related to affordable housing and place-making.